

2015 Johanneshof Cellars Marlborough Gewürztraminer

This wine has aromas of jasmine and white flowers, opulent spices, rose petal and banana. The palate of potpourri, lychees and white chocolate is long and lingering with a luscious off dry finish.

“Delectable as always, this latest offering is a stunning example of this gorgeous grape variety; exhibiting seductive aromas of fig, mango, yellow stone fruits and potpourri on the nose. The palate is powerful and richly textured with outstanding fruit weight, brilliantly supported by layers of delicious flavours and seamlessly woven bright acidity. Opulent yet balanced and poised. At its best: now to 2025.” Wine Orbit Nov 2016.

“Brilliant straw-yellow colour with pale golden hues, lighter on the rim. The nose is tightly bound with penetrating aromas of tropical fruits, lychees, rose-petal florals and root ginger, unfolding a subtle, savoury musk suggestion providing complexing detail. The aromatics have a youthfully fresh, steely definition. Medium-dry to medium in taste and medium-bodied, the palate features mouthfilling and rich flavours with layers of tropical fruits, rose-petal florals, Middle Eastern spices and earthy root ginger. The wine possesses a soft phenolic texture to balance the fruit sweetness, and the palate is underlined by a firm, concentrated, steely-edged core that carries to a long, lingering, complex finish of sweet exotic fruits, savoury spices, florals and ginger. This is a layered and detailed medium-dry Gewurztraminer with complex sweetly rich exotic fruits and savoury spice and ginger flavours with a concentrated, firm and youthful core. Match with Middle Eastern and Asian cuisine over the next 4+ years.” Raymond Chan Wine review. Nov 2016
